| Considerations   |  |
|--|--|
| Questions that organizations should consider when forming an HR Analytics function     Is the organization ready to quantify human resources?     Have you secured executive sponsorship?     Does HR need a separate analytics function?     In what ways can HR leverage existing analytics capabilities?     What resources are available to build the team?     Who are your key stakholders?     How will you select and prioritize projects?     Maximize value by connecting HR analytics to overall operating objectives |  |
